

Wealth Management Research

Thomas Berner, CFA®

U.S. Economist

Languages

German, Spanish

Education

Thomas Berner studied economics at the University of Basel in Switzerland with a major focus on econometrics and financial markets.

Professional History

Thomas is an Economist within Wealth Management Research. He concentrates on the U.S. economy with a strong focus on econometric modeling. His insights and forecasts of key variables of the U.S. business cycle serve as input for the overall UBS Global WM&BB investment strategy. He started his professional career as an economist with UBS Investment Bank in 2000, covering the Canadian and Swiss economies and later the U.S. economy. In 2002, he switched to Wealth Management as a U.S. economist and research assistant to the Global Head of Wealth Management Research. Apart from covering the U.S. economy, he is actively involved in formulating investment recommendations for the main asset classes as a member of the Global Investment Recommendations team.

Professional Affiliation

Thomas is a Chartered Financial Analyst®

Media Exposure

Thomas has appeared on CNN en Español and Radio America (Argentina).